UPCOMING CNL PRESENTATIONS

Thursday, April 16, 2015 from 2:00 pm – 3:00 pm
AONE Annual Meeting and Exposition in Phoenix, AZ
http://www.aone.org/conference2015/index.shtml

Speaker

Grace Sotomayor, MBA, MSN, RN, FACHE, NEA-BC, CNL
Vice President and Chief Nurse Executive, Carolinas Medical Center

Presentation Title

Clinical Nurse Leaders: Improving Quality, Safety, and Cost of Care by Serving as Catalysts for Change

Description

This session describes work done to integrate masters prepared generalist nurses into bedside care in a large academic medical center. It presents information to enable Chief Nurse Executives to effectively advocate for the role by making it budget neutral. Compelling evidence of results over a 3 year period is presented to warrant role expansion with additional relevance to outpatient, physician office and post-acute care settings.
UPCOMING CNL PRESENTATIONS

Wednesday, May 27, 2015
2015 QSEN National Forum in San Diego, CA
http://qsen.org/conferences/2015-national-forum/

Speaker

Kris L’Ecuyer, PhD, RN, CCNS, CNL
Coordinator, Accelerated Master’s of Science in Nursing
Saint Louis University School of Nursing

Presentation Title

The Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL): Champion of QSEN Competencies

Description

This presentation will highlight the alignment of QSEN competencies to the Clinical Nurse Leader (CNL) Role. The CNL is a new and innovative role. Nurses who understand the importance of QSEN competencies may be interested to learn about the education, certification, and practice opportunities for the CNL. Speakers for this presentation are the Chair and Vice-Chair of the Commission on Nurse Certification (CNC), the governing body that oversees the CNL certification exam.